

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. ## GARRETT BIBLICAL INSTITUTE.

GARRETT BIBLICAL INSTITUTE invites to its care and instruction the young men of the church whom God has called to the ministry. More than a thousand students have enjoyed the privileges of the school, not a few of whom have attained prominence in the church as preachers and pastors, foreign missionaries, and presidents and professors of colleges and seminaries. The names of those who have satisfactorily completed the full course of study and have graduated are published in this catalogue.

The institution is pleasantly situated in the Town of Evanston, of some 10,000 inhabitants, on the shore of Lake Michigan, a half hour north of Chicago by the Northwestern & St. Paul Railroads. This beautiful suburb of the city is also the seat of the Northwestern University.

ADMISSION OF STUDENTS.

Students not licensed to preach are received on the recommendation of their respective quarterly conferences (or temporarily, in failure of this, a note from their pastors promising it in due time), that they are regarded as proper persons to study for the Christian ministry. This is expected to imply in the applicant genuine religious character, good natural talents, and an undoubted call to the ministry. The form of recommendation authorized by the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church is as follows:

"We, the members of the Quarterly Conference of.....
hereby express our judgment that.....is called of God to the work of the ministry, and we commend him to the care and instruction of the Garrett Biblical Institute."

Applicants from other churches will need to bring certificates which are usually given by the denomination to which they belong.

COURSES OF STUDY.

This Institute offers three courses of study, as exhibited in the schedule below.

The DEGREE COURSE is open to classical graduates of colleges, for whom it is especially arranged, and to such other students as upon examination shall satisfy the Faculty that they have an equivalent classical and literary training. Its satisfactory completion entitles to the degree of Bachelor of Divinity. No person, not a classical graduate, will be recognized as a suitable candidate for the degree, who does not at or before the beginning of his second year offer himself for the required examination. It is earnestly recommended that young men shall obtain a collegiate education before entering the Institute.

The DIPLOMA COURSE is designed for such as have a good English education, though not possessed of an adequate knowledge of the Greek language to enter at once upon the study of the Greek Testament. Instruction in the elements of Hellenistic and Classical Greek is furnished to students who pursue this course of study. Such as are able to take up the study of the Greek Testament at the beginning of their second year in the Institute, will thus receive two years' training in New Testament Exegesis and will also devote two years to the study of the Hebrew language and Old Testament Exegesis. The satisfactory completion of this course entitles to the Diploma of the Institute.

AN ENGLISH COURSE (of one, two, or three years) is open to those students who desire to avail themselves of such theological studies as they may, with the advice and concurrence of the Faculty, select. For the work thus completed a certificate will be given.

NOTE.—Students expecting to begin the study of Greek or Hebrew are especially urged to be in attendance the first day of the term, as the loss of a few recitations may seriously embarrass their progress.

NOTE.—All students who hereafter shall not elect by the close of the junior year, either the diploma or degree course, will be classed as special students.

INSTRUCTION.

Instruction is given by recitation and lectures, and free discussion is invited. For the study of Hebrew and Old Testament Exegesis students will need Gesenius' Hebrew Grammar, Gesenius', Davies' or Fuerst's Lexicon and a Hebrew Bible. Harper's Hebrew text books are used in the elementary classes. For work in New Testament Exegesis they are recommended to use Winer's, Butmann's, and Green's New Testament Grammars, and Thayer's and Cremer's Lexicons; and to procure Westcott's and Hort's or some other recent critical text of the Greek Testament. Raymond's Systematic Theology is used as a text book preceded by Hopkin's Mental Philosophy; Kurtz, Schaff, and Fisher on Church History; Kidder, Phelps, Etter, and Shedd on Homiletics; Phelps on English Style; Hoppin's and Van Oosterzee's and Blaikie's Practical Theology are also recommended. More time will hereafter be given to English Bible studies, especially for those who take simply the English Course. Members of the Senior Class will be required to preach in turn before the faculty and students of the Institute.

ELOCUTION.

This department is entrusted to a special instructor, who devotes his whole time to the subject. The acquisition of a manly and refined style of public address is a distinguishing feature of the educational work of the institution, and is emphasized as one of the essentials for success in the Christian Ministry; hence a course of training, extending through the three years of study, is required as a condition of graduation. It is confidently proposed that every student who completes the course of study in this department shall acquire a correct, effective, and graceful elocution.

MEMORIAL HALL.

The new Memorial Hall affords superior accommodation for chapel, library, and reading room. Each professor is furnished with a lecture room and private office. The whole is heated by steam.

HECK HALL.

Heck Hall is a large brick edifice, substantially built and furnished with fire-escapes, is used wholly as a dormitory, and has a capacity for one hundred and twenty students. No families are accommodated in it.

LIBRARIES.

The number of volumes in the Institute and in the Northwestern University Libraries, the one for daily working use and the other for free reference, is over thirty thousand. The latest works in all departments are being constantly added to both libraries. Among the valuable additions this year's Migne's Patrology, 388 vols., which is now very rare. Through the courtesy of the University, the students of the Institute are allowed free access to its library.

Reading-rooms are connected with both, supplied with the important dailies, weeklies, monthlies, and quarterlies in general and theological literature.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

Class exercises are opened with prayer and singing, and once during each day's proceedings the whole school assembles for public devotions. Prayer and conference meetings occur during each week, and these, with the Sabbath services of the various village churches and regular class meetings, supply means for growth both in practical religious knowledge and in breadth and depth of religious character. The Evanston churches are especially noted for their intellectual, spiritual, and social excellence, and for the thoroughness of their organizations. They offer in themselves admirable religious training schools.

Many students are regularly engaged in preaching and in Sunday school and mission work in Chicago and vicinity. Such is the efficiency of their evangelistic labors that every year numerous accessions to the church are made through their instrumentality. The past year 514 conversions have been reported.

EXPENSES.

Tuition and room rent are free of charge to regular theological students. When occupying a room in Heck Hall each student is charged an incidental fee of ten dollars a year for curator's service, fuel for public rooms, and general repairs, payable half-yearly in advance. When not occupants of Heck Hall, students pay (half-yearly in advance) a fee of five dollars a year.

The rooms in Heck Hall are in suites, consisting mainly of study, bedrooms, and wardrobe, and are furnished with stoves, tables, book-cases, bureau stands, chairs, bedsteads, and mattresses. Students supply their own pillows, pillow-cases, sheets, bed-coverings, towels, crockery, and smaller articles.

The actual expenses of board, incidental fee, light, and washing, need not exceed the sum of one hundred and sixty dollars a year. Married students can, by strict economy, maintain themselves and families, including room rent, etc., in the village, on from three hundred and fifty to four hundred and fifty dollars a year.

NOTE.—Rooms in Heck Hall, not occupied by regular theological students, can be used subject to rules for conduct and residence, by students recommended for the ministry who are connected with the University or its Preparatory School, and who intend to take the theological course in this institution, on condition that each occupant of a room be charged twenty dollars a year, payable half-yearly in advance.

FINANCIAL AID.

Young men who have learned how to earn and save money often work their way unaided through college and theological school. A truly earnest and persevering student, with tact and hopefulness, many times finds, and even creates opportunities for himself. To these help is rendered as far as practicable. From fifty to sixty preaching appointments in the vicinity have been open to competent preachers among the students. This institution covets consecrated young men who never quail in the presence of difficulties, and in every practicable and useful way its aim is to aid them, and experience shows that direction and stimulus of the students' energies to self-help often bring sufficiency and independence. The Educational Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church is now rendering very substantial assistance by its judicious system of loans. With increasing resources it promises more liberal help.

THE SARAH STEWART FUND.

In 1882 The Sarah Stewart Missionary Scholarship Fund was established by John W. Stewart, Esq., of Chicago, and Rev. William F. Stewart, of Evanston. This fund furnishes an annual income of four hundred dollars to be used for the support of missionary students.

The object is to preserve the memory of a devoted Christian woman, the widow of the late Rev. John W. Stewart, of the Ohio Conference, and mother of the founders of the fund, by aiding and promoting the work of Christian missions as carried forward under the auspices and direction of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The chosen method of doing this is by aiding persons who offer themselves and are accepted as candidates for the mission work to obtain the most thorough preparation for this work; and, to do this with the greatest economy of time and means, the Garrett Biblical Institute is chosen as the place where this aid is to be afforded by scholarships to the amount of not exceeding one hundred dollars each per annum. The incumbents shall be selected yearly by the Faculty of the Institute, and the Bishops and Missionary Secretaries shall be notified, that they may have opportunity to make nominations.

If in any year there shall not be suitable candidates for all of the scholarships, then the revenue for that year not used shall be paid over to the treasurer of the Parent Board of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Notes shall be taken of each beneficiary for the amounts received; and if said beneficiary does not enter upon such work within three years after graduating, or leaves the Institute before graduating without the approval of the faculty, or shall be dismissed therefrom, these notes shall at once become due and payable.

When any beneficiary shall be duly appointed to a foreign missionary field the notes shall be canceled. If any one goes to any field of domestic mission work, the notes of such shall be canceled after such work has been prosecuted continuously for five years. But it shall be left to the faculty fully and freely to determine whether the character of the work conforms to the spirit of this condition.

All moneys returned by the beneficiaries shall be added to the principal fund, and shall go to founding additional scholarships.

THE ATHANASIAN LITERARY SOCIETY.

This society holds weekly meetings. The exercises are both literary and theological, and consist of orations, discussions, and of whatever contributes to mental stimulus and improvements in extemporary speaking and elocution.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Constitution and By-Laws of this Society were formed in November, 1857. The objects aimed at are information respecting the conditions and prospects of all missionary work in the world; to report at various times a survey of the world's need, and to promote missionary interest and zeal among the members. Scores of men, as the result, in part at least, of this society's influence have gone as missionaries to foreign lands. The Missionary Museum contains articles illustrative of heathen customs.

PALESTINE SOCIETY.

The object of this society is to promote a knowledge of Bible Lands by arranging for lectures, and by procuring books, maps, pictures, and other illustrative objects. Lectures on Central Palestine, accompanied by stereopticon views, have been delivered the past year, and others on Greece and Asia Minor and on Egypt are to follow. Such lectures will be a feature of instruction each year.

RELATION TO GARRETT BIBLICAL INSTITUTE.

A close relation has been established between Garrett Biblical Institute and the Norwegian-Danish Theological School, located at Evanston, under the principalship of the Rev. Nels E. Simonsen, A.M., B.D. By this arrangement the students of the Norwegian-Danish department may take the entire course of study of the Institute, substituting instruction in one or more branches in their own tongue, under Principal Simonsen. Upon the satisfactory completion of the course thus pursued they will be graduated from the Institute. This department is established to prepare men for the Ministry among the Norwegian and Danish people, and offers its students an opportunity to pursue their theological studies in the English and Norwegian and Danish languages. The course of study extends through three years. Oral and written examinations are held at the close of each year, and those who complete the entire course in the Norwegian-Danish language are granted a certificate. Students are received on the recommendation of their respective conferences. A commodious and substantial building, containing a dining hall and dormitories, has been completed by the Norwegian and Danish people for the use of the students of this Department.
